PART I. LITERATURE REVIEWS: BACKGROUND TO MODERN PIGMENT OCEANOGRAPHY 17

1. Development of pigment methods for oceanography: SCOR-supported Working Groups and objectives 19
   S. W. Jeffrey and R. F. C. Mantoura

2. Introduction to marine phytoplankton and their pigment signatures 37
   S. W. Jeffrey and M. Vesik

3. Metabolism and function of photosynthetic pigments 85
   R. J. Porra, E. E. Pfundel and N. Engel

4. Application of pigment methods to oceanography 127
   S. W. Jeffrey

5. Pigment processes in the sea: a selected bibliography 167
   S. W. Jeffrey, C. A. Llewellyn, R. G. Bariow and R. F. C. Mantoura

PART II. EXPERIMENTAL RESULTS OF SCOR WORKING GROUP 78 WORKSHOPS 179

6. Simple procedures for growing SCOR reference microalgal cultures 181
   S. W. Jeffrey and J.-M. LeRoi

7. Preparation of chlorophyll standards 207
   S. W. Jeffrey

8. Preparation of carotenoid standards 239
   D. J. Repeta and T. Bjornland

9. Evaluation of methods and solvents for pigment extraction 261
   S. W. Wright, S. W. Jeffrey and R. F. C. Mantoura
10. Filtration and storage of pigments from microalgae R. F. C. Mantoura, S. W. Wright, S. W. Jeffrey, R. G. Barlow and D. E. Cummings

12. High-resolution HPLC system for chlorophylls and carotenoids of marine phytoplankton S. W. Wright and S. W. Jeffrey

13. Qualitative and quantitative HPLC analysis of SCOR reference algal cultures S. W. Jeffrey and S. W. Wright

PART III. GUIDELINES FOR HPLC SYSTEMS, SAMPLING AND SELECTING METHODS FOR PIGMENTS

15. Guidelines for selecting and setting up an HPLC system and laboratory S. W. Wright and R. F. C. Mantoura

17. Guidelines for collection and pigment analysis of field samples S. W. Wright and R. F. C. Mantoura

PART IV. DATA FOR THE IDENTIFICATION OF 47 KEY PHYTOPLANKTON PIGMENTS S. W. Jeffrey, R. F. C. Mantoura and T. Bjørnland

IV.1 Preamble: Notes on the use of the Data and Graphics sheets

IV.2 Chlorophyll Data and Graphics sheets

IV.3 Carotenoid Data and Graphics sheets
